1 TO THE HON. DENNIS MONTALI, UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY JUDGE, THE
2 DEBTORS, AND ALL OTHER PARTIES-IN-INTEREST:

3 Raam Pandeya (“Pandeya”) and Sophia Ali (“Ali,” and together with Pandeya, “Movants”)
4 jointly own various parcels of property that were damaged or destroyed in the 2017 North Bay Fire
5 (“Fire”). In October 2019, Pandeya filed Proof of Claim No. 27893 (“Pandeya Claim”) and Sophia Ali
6 filed Proof of Claim No. 28997 (“Ali Claim,” and together with the Pandeya Claim, “Claims”)
7 against Debtors for damages they suffered in the Fire. Unfortunately, due to an error by counsel,
8 Claims did not seek damages for all of Movants’ real property damaged by the Fire. Specifically, the 9 Claims only included damages for Movants’ home, and omitted claims related to other jointly owned
10 real property that Movants lost in the Fire. Movants now seek to (a) amend the Claims to include a 11 recovery for the damage done to their other real property by the Fire under Federal Rule of 12 Bankruptcy Procedure (“Rule”) 7015; or (b) have their otherwise late-filed claim related to the Other
13 Property deemed timely under Rule 9006(b).

14 This Motion is based on the Points and Authorities set forth herein, the concurrently filed
15 Notice of Hearing, the Declaration of Robert Bryson in support of the Motion, and any other evidence
16 or argument presented to the Court at or before the time of the hearing on this matter.

17 POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

18 1. FACTS

19 a. General Background

20 In January 2019, the Debtors filed voluntary Chapter 11 petitions, commencing these cases.
21 Dkt No. 1.

22 Initially, the Court set a claims bar of October 21, 2019. Dkt. No. 2806. The claims bar date
23 was extended to December 31, 2019, to allow certain fire victims additional time to file claims
24 against the Debtors. Dkt. No. 4651.

25 Jointly, the Debtors proposed a chapter 11 plan of reorganization that, among other things,
26 channeled all fire victim claims to the Fire Victim Trust (“Plan”). Dkt. No. 8048. On June 20, 2020,
27 the Court entered an order confirming Debtors’ Plan. Dkt. No. 8053.

28 ///

1 b. The Claims Against the Debtors

2 On October 16, 2019, the Pandeya Claim was filed asserting a claim for, among other things,
3 damages to Pandeya's home, which is located at 4901 Warm Springs Road, Glen Ellen, CA
4 ("Home"). A true and correct copy of the Pandeya Claim is attached to the declaration of Robert
5 Bryson ("Bryson Decl.") as Exhibit 1. The Home was destroyed in the Fire. Although Pandeya owns
6 other real property near the Home, including 13370 Saddle Road, Glen Ellen CA (collectively, "Other
7 Property"), that suffered significant damage as a result of the Fire, claims relating to the Other
8 Property were inadvertently omitted from the Pandeya Claim by counsel. Bryson Decl., ¶¶5-9.

9 On October 16, 2019, the Ali Claim was filed asserting damages relating to the destruction of 10 the Home, which Ali and Pandeya jointly own. A true and correct copy of the Ali Claim is attached to 11 the Bryson Decl. at Exhibit 2. When the Ali Claim was filed, counsel again inadvertently omitted
12 claims relating to damage to the Other Property, which Ali and Pandeya also own jointly. Bryson
13 Decl., ¶¶5-9.

14 In a review of the Claims performed in January 2021, the omission of the Other Property from 15 the Claims was discovered. Bryson Decl., ¶9.

16 2. MOVANTS ARE ENTITLED TO AMEND THE CLAIMS.

17 Movants are entitled to assert claims related to the damage done to the Other Property. Under 18 Rule 7015, Movants are entitled to amend the Claims because the amendments merely add averments
19 permitting a recovery for damages to the Other Property based on the same set of facts. Alternatively,
20 Rule 9006(b)(1) allows Claimants to have a timely-filed claim related to the damages to the Other
21 Property under because the exclusion of such damages from the Claims was the result of counsel's 22 inadvertent error.

23 For the following reasons, the Motion should be granted.

24 a. The Claims Can Be Amended Under Rule 7015.

25 FRBP 7015 governs "[a]mended and [s]upplemental pleadings." Applying this Rule, courts 26 consistently recognize that "[a] party that wishes to amend its claim after the bar date has passed must 27 obtain permission of the bankruptcy court." In re Quinn, 423 B.R. 454, 463 (Bankr. D. Del. 2009).
28 See also, In re Ben Franklin Hotel Assocs., 186 F.3d 301, 309 (3rd Cir. 1999).

1 Like other courts, the Ninth Circuit has “consistently applied the ‘so called rule of liberality in
2 amendments’ to creditors’ proofs of claim,” such that amended claims relate back to the previously
3 filed claim. In re Holm, 931 F.2d 620, 622 (9th Cir. 1991) (quoting In re Anderson-Walker Indus.,
4 Inc., 798 F.2d 1285, 1287 (9th Cir. 1986). See also, 4 Collier on Bankruptcy Proc. §501.02 (16th ed.
5 2020) (noting that courts freely allow amendments to a proof of claim, both before and after the bar
6 date). Summarizing the liberality in amendment standard as applied to a proof of claim, one court
7 stated, “[a]mendments to proofs of claim should be freely allowed where the purpose is to cure
8 defects in the claim as originally filed, to describe a claim with greater particularity, or to plead new 9 theories of recovery on facts set forth in the original claim.” In re Ben Franklin Hotel Assocs., 186
10 F.3d at 309.

11 In the context of a motion to amend a complaint, the Ninth Circuit considers five factors in 12 deciding whether to permit an amended pleading: “(1) bad faith, (2) undue delay, (3) prejudice to the 13 opposing party, (4) futility of amendments, and (5) whether plaintiff has previously amended [its]
14 complaint.” Learjet, Inc. v. Oneok, Inc. (In re Western States Wholesale Natural Gas Antitrust
15 Litigation), 715 F.3d 716, 737 (9th Cir. 2013) (quoting Allen v. City of Beverly Hills, 911 F.2d 367,
16 373 (9th Cir. 1990). “It is the consideration of prejudice to the opposing party that carries the greatest 17 weight.” Eminence Capital, LLC v. Aspeon, Inc., 316 F.3d 1048, 1052 (9th Cir. 2003)

18 Here, Movants undeniably suffered harm when the Fire damaged the Other Property. Movants
19 seek to amend the Claims to include averments for such damages, which were inadvertently omitted
20 by counsel when the Claims were prepared and filed. Bryson Decl. ¶¶5-9. This is Movants’ first 21 request to amend the Claims and bad faith and undue delay are not present. Indeed, the Claims were 22 timely-filed and Movants believed that all relevant assertions had been included. Id. Further, the 23 amendment is not futile. Movants undeniably suffered both economic and non-economic harm as a
24 result of the destruction of the Other Property, meaning the proposed amendments merely add a
25 theory of recovery based on the same facts alleged in the Claims. In re Ben Franklin Hotel Assocs., 26 186 F.3d at 309. Most importantly, the Debtors will not be prejudiced by the amendments as the 27 estates are solvent and all fire-related claims have been channeled to the Fire Victim Trust, which was 28 established to fully compensate victims for Debtors’ wrong-doing.

1 Thus, Movants should be permitted to amend the Claims to include claims for the damage
2 done to the Other Property by the Fire.

3 b. Alternatively, The Time For Movants To File A Claim Related To
4 The Other Property Should Be Extended Under Rule 9006.

5 Alternatively, the time for Movants to file a claim relating to the harm done to the Other
6 Property should be extended under Rule 9006(b)(1). The court has “broad equitable powers” to 7 extend the time for filing a proof of claim. Pioneer Inv. Servs. v. Brunswick Assocs. Ltd. P’ship, 507
8 U.S. 380, 389 (1993). Rule 9001(b)(1) allows “late filings caused by inadvertence, mistake, or 9 carelessness, not just those caused by intervening circumstance beyond a party’s control.” Id. at 381.
10 Indeed, even a creditor that received notice of a bar date may file a proof of claim in a Chapter 11
11 case with a showing of “excusable neglect.” Id. at 394-95 (“Had respondents here been prevented
12 from complying with the bar date by an act of God or some other circumstance beyond their control,
13 the Bankruptcy Court plainly would have been permitted to find ‘excusable neglect’ [under FRBP 14 9006].”).

15 In determining if a creditor’s failure to act was the product of “excusable neglect,” the court 16 should take “account of all relevant circumstances surrounding the party’s omission,” including “the 17 danger of prejudice to the debtor, the length of the delay and its potential impact on judicial 18 proceedings, the reason for the delay, including whether it was within the reasonable control of the 19 movant, and whether the movant acted in good faith.” Id. at 395. A late-filed proof of claim is 20 allowable where a creditor had actual notice of the bankruptcy but, due to some external reason,
21 failed to file a proof of claim or did not realize that she had to, before the bar date. See, e.g., In re
22 Zilog, Inc., 450 F.3d 996, 1003-07 (9th Cir. 2006) (applying the Pioneer factors).

23 Here, the Pioneer factors weigh in favor of permitting Claimants to amend the Claims. First,
24 there is no danger of prejudice to the Debtors as the estates are solvent and all creditors will be paid.
25 See, e.g., In re Best Payphones, Inc., 523 B.R. 54, 75-6 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 2015). Second, the delay in 26 amending the Claims will have no impact on the administration of the case as all fire-related claims
27 have been channeled to the Fire Victims’ Trust. Third, the omission of damages related to the Other
28 Property from the Claims was the result of counsel’s error, not the actions of Claimants. Bryson

1 Decl., ¶¶5-9. Indeed, Claimants have, at all times, acted in good faith as they attempt to recover for 2 the harm inflicted on them by the Fire. Finally, there is no prospect of prejudice beyond solvency as
3 distributions have not yet been made to fire victims and the value of Claimants' amended claims
4 relative to the value of Debtors' estates is low. See, e.g., In re Keene Corp., 188 B.R. 903, 910
5 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1995) (size of the late claim in relation to the estate is a consideration in 6 determining prejudice).

7 3. CONCLUSION

8 For the foregoing reasons, the Motion should be granted. When the Claims were submitted,
9 allegations of damages to the Other Property were inadvertently omitted by counsel. As a result,
10 Movants should be allowed either (a) to amend the Claims under Rule 7015 to include the damages
11 caused to the Other Property by the Fire; or (b) a timely-filed claim related to the damage to the Other 12 Property under Rule 9006(b).
